The term "feasibility study" is often used in context of product development processes. Feasibility studies focus on five subjects: technical, economic, legal, operational and scheduling feasibility studies.

Soil erosion is a serious problem arising from agricultural intensification, land degradation and other anthropogenic activities. Assessment of soil erosion is useful in planning and conservation works in a watershed or basin.

Wireless power transfer is a generic term for a number of different technologies for transmitting energy by means of electromagnetic fields. The technologies, listed in the table below, differ in the distance over which they can transfer power efficiently, whether the transmitter must be aimed (directed) at the receiver, and in the type of electromagnetic energy they use: time varying electric ...

Shell Engineering and Associates, Inc., specializes in ambient air quality monitoring services. As opposed to dispersion modeling's reliance on mathematical predictions, ambient air monitoring actually measures for level of air quality at a specific location over a given time period.

Abstract Pancreatic islets (PIs) transplantation is an alternative approach for the treatment of severe forms of type 1 diabetes (T1D). To monitor the success of transplantation, it is desirable to follow the location of engrafted PIs non-invasively.

In IT security, offensive problems are technical - but most defensive problems are political and organisational. Attackers have the luxury to focus only on the technical aspects of their work, while defenders have to navigate complex political and regulatory environments.
